15,000 RUSSIAN REDS CAPTURED

Together With Many Cannon and Large Quantities of War Materials

WRANGEL'S ARMY HAS BEEN ACTIVE

And Is Said to Be Awaiting Next Bolshevik Offensive With Courage

Sabastopol, Crimea, Oct. 24 (By the Associated Press).—Fifteen thousand Russian bolshevik soldiers have been taken prisoners and many cannon and large quantities of war material have been captured in raids carried out by General Baron Wrangel's army recently. General Wrangel's army, which has been fighting continuously since June and which has suffered relatively heavy casualties, is said by commanders to be facing, with high courage, the bolshevik offensive north of the Crimea, which is expected any day.

WARREN

Several from here attended the school exhibit at Waitsfield last Friday. The "Corner" school, taught by Lola Pierce, took first prize for school exhibit; Warren grammar, taught by Miss Abbie Jones, second, and south hill school, taught by Frances Hartshorn, third. All were very fine and showed the work that was being done in our schools. There were several individual prizes brought home by our boys and girls. Much credit is due them. In behalf of teachers and pupils, your correspondent extends thanks to Arthur Neill and Dan Senor for their kindness and public spirit in transporting the pupils from the village school.

Mrs. E. H. Richardson recently sold her gate-legged table to parties from Massachusetts for $100.

W. B. Tomlin, who has been very sick at Bristol, Conn., came Sunday for a two weeks' vacation. He is stopping at Mrs. Van Drew's.

There is to be a Halloween social at the town hall Saturday night, to which the public is invited.

A aeroplane was seen passing over west hill Sunday afternoon.

Noel Kathman and Ed. Hanks have purchased automobiles.

R. D. Robinson was in Montpelier Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Campbell have arrived home from West Boylston, Mass. They expect to start for Florida next month.

Mrs. W. H. Traak returned Saturday from Massachusetts, where she had been on a visit.

Improving the St. Lawrence.

While New England has yet to express its views on the St. Lawrence deeper waterways plan, there is no danger of prejudging the issue in pointing out that the project is meeting with serious opposition in both the United States and Canada. Many of the objections are based merely on the self-interest of various communities. These are not intrinsically weighty, and they are not always creditable to those who give them expression. But they must be considered. Judge Miller, Republican candidate for governor of New York, fears for the Erie canal. A special attorney general of the Empire state opposes St. Lawrence development because it would lessen the probability of the extravagant deeper Hudson plan ever being carried out, and to advertise his object, utters a ringing cry that the St. Lawrence scheme would put the United States at the mercy of Canada and create an American Dardanelles. At Buffalo, opponents told the international commission that the plan would chiefly benefit Canada; at Montreal, the commission was told that it would chiefly benefit the United States.

These shortsighted arguments counteract one another. But it is desirable to recognize that an element of suspicion enters into the objections on the other side of the border. A large power development project is involved and in Canada there are two distinct fears, one, that private capital would get the benefit from the power plant, and the other, that the United States would be wily enough to obtain the advantage in any agreement entered into.

The representatives of New England opinion never fail to be warned by these mournful examples of pettiness and suspicion not to press objections to the scheme on any narrow or largely fanciful ground of self-interest. It may seem that the project is killed already by the cumulative opposition which the commissioners find as they come eastward from the middle west. But this is not necessarily the case. The project, after all, should stand or fall by its feasibility as a problem of transportation and of public expediency, in which the large costs must be weighed against the probable utility and economy.

On these grounds, there are weighty objections. But it is too early to predict that the plan will be entirely lost. The president of the Montreal harbor commission, who supports the fairly general view that ocean steamers would never find it practical to navigate the Great Lakes, advocates such development of the St. Lawrence as would give lake boats access to Montreal. The transfer of a grain cargo at Montreal is said to be of small expense. This solution might be of marked advantage to New England, as it would enable the larger lake boats to reach Ogdensburg, N. Y., which is 100 miles nearer Boston than Buffalo is, and which, through its direct railway connections, is really New England's port on the St. Lawrence river.—Springfield Republican.

HELPLESS WITH RHEUMATISM

Until He Took "Fruit-a-tives" Or Fruit Liver Tablets

R. R. No. 1, LORNE, Ont.

"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. I treated with doctors and tried nearly everything without benefit.

Finally, I tried 'Fruit-a-tives'. Before I had used half a box, I saw improvement; the pain was easier and the swelling started to go down.

I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

WAITS RIVER

The funeral of Miss Mary Folsom, who died at Waterbury, was held at the church in the village Wednesday. Rev. George Morris officiating. Among those from out of town to attend the services were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Folsom of St. Albans, C. D. Folsom of Reedville, Mass., Mrs. B. G. Miles of Montpelier and Mrs. I. A. Ranney of Hardwick. The bearers were A. Hoyt, W. E. Cunningham, E. V. Batten and Harry Miles. Burial was in the village cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Dexter of Lowell, Mass., called on Mrs. J. T. Carter Wednesday.

Mrs. R. B. Hood received a letter last week from Rev. A. J. Green, a former pastor here, who has been at his home in London, England.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dodge of Dalton, Mass., who have been visiting here the past week, returned home Saturday.

The ladies of the home mission society will meet with Mrs. E. V. Batten Thursday, Nov. 4. They were entertained at Mrs. R. B. Hood's at the last meeting and tied a quilt. They will be glad to help anyone if they will let them know.

There was a surprise party on honor of the birthday of Miss Shirley Gauthier of East Barre at the hall Saturday evening. Two other young ladies of the party also celebrated theirs at the same time. The evening was spent in dancing and light refreshments were served. All reported a good time.

Mrs. J. T. Carter left Saturday for Barre to visit her sister, Mrs. Hutchins, before returning to Lowell, Mass., for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Patterson of Washington were in town recently, calling on friends, Mrs. Jennie Watson of Cambridge, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. George McDuffee returning with them to spend a few days.

There was a husking at Perley Hood's Thursday.

Church services Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Anderson will preach. Sunday school in the morning at 10:45 o'clock. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. V. Batten.

Fascination of Guile.

"Ever read 'Aesop's Fables'?" "You mean the stories in which the animals are supposed to talk?" asked Senator Sorghum.

"The same."

"Yes, I've read 'em. Aesop was a smart man. He realized it was almost impossible to interest the public in a simple statement of honest truth without mixing it in with some gilded and fantastic whopper."—Washington Star.

Not Just Alike.

In reply to our observation that he and his son and namesake resembled each other greatly, old Bill Slivers said:

"The main difference 'twixt me an' young Bill is, when I put in a day at work I don't feel much like ruinin' round nights; and when young Bill puts in a night ruinin' round he don't feel much like workin' next day."—Topeka Capital.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

The Main Points of this Entire Sale

$25 Worth of Genuine PATHE RECORDS FREE

1. This is a co-operative nation-wide demonstration sale of Pathe Phonographs and Pathe Records.
2. The sale is one of approximately one hundred similar sales which are planned to be held in one hundred of the principal cities of the United States, including Barre.
3. The plan, advertising, price of the phonographs, and general conditions of sale are identical in every city where the sale will be held.
4. The reason back of this great nation-wide demonstration campaign is to better acquaint the public with the merits of Pathe Phonographs and Pathe Records by letting the people see and hear them direct rather than to reach them indirectly through magazine advertising alone.
5. The outfit offered through this special publicity campaign consists of:

One genuine 1921 Pathe Phonograph, regular model 10, as shown in cut.

One Universal tone arm and sound box for playing all makes of records.

One indestructible Pathe Sapphire Ball (full-tone), and one Pathe Sapphire Ball (half-tone), for playing Pathe Records.

$25 WORTH OF GENUINE PATHE OR PATHE ACTUELLE RECORDS—YOUR OWN SELECTION.

One hundred steel needles.

6. The price for the full equipment is $150.
7. You may practically name your own terms.
8. The balance you may spread out over a period of one year.
10. Every Pathe Phonograph sold during this sale is guaranteed in writing for one (1) year, both the manufacturer and ourselves agreeing to replace any defective parts without charge should any appear within that time.

Yet the PATE Costs no more than the ordinary Phonograph

The Phonographs will be delivered, at once, in the order selected until our entire allotment of 75 instruments is exhausted.

Why you should own the Jeweled Pathe

There are five distinct and definite reasons why you should own the genuine Jeweled Pathe in preference to all other phonographs. And this great nation-wide Demonstration Sale is to prove the superiority of these points, beyond the question of a doubt.

- 1st. Because the full, clear tone of each individually toned instrument is reproduced by the pure tone chamber and the famous Pathe Sapphire Ball. The music flows from the records. It isn't scratched off.
- 2nd. Because there are no needles to change on the genuine Pathe. The Sapphire Ball never wears out, neither does it wear out the records.
- 3rd. Because the Pathe plays all makes of records, and plays them with more natural and lifelike tone than any other Phonograph. The entire wealth of the phonograph world is available to you, if you own the Pathe.
- 4th. Because the Pathe is always ready to play. Just slip on a record and the Pathe is ready.
- 5th. Because the Pathe Controls enable you to play any record loudly or softly with the same Sapphire Ball.
